Wildlife Steel Targets

Overview

Orion Firearms Training's ISO 9001 compliant steel reactive targets have been proved and tested by having 1,000's of rounds from varying calibres shot at them in all weather conditions.

The targets are extremely robust and have to be made to exacting standards allowing for calibres such as .338 and .50 BMG to be fired at them time and time again.

The targets are capable of handling all modern day ball ammunition, and are compliant with:

- RHA (Rolled Homogeneous Armour)
- ABRO 500 (Higher Abrasion resistant steel plate with hardness of 500 HBW)

British forces, both regular and special forces are now using steel reactive targets on a more regular basis. The signature and fall of shot recognition is second to none.

Snipers, marksmen and professional shooters alike understand the importance of "knowing precisely where their fall of shot is"...our targets fulfill their every requirement.

Side facing Fox including base

Muntjac Target

All our targets deliver a highly visible and strong sound signature when hit.

Orion has a clear understanding of the modern day marksman's and professional stalkers requirements. As such all our targets are capable of withstanding the harshest of tests and will enable the shooter to get the very best from their practice.
